

North Eastern Tribune week ending March 20

Don't miss Sol Zim concert

SOL Zim, acclaimed as, America's Superstar of Jewish Music, will be visiting South Africa this month for his third concert tour of Johannesburg and Cape Town.

Performing to packed audiences in the United States, Sol's charismatic personality, coupled with his professional stage presentation, provides the necessary foundation for lively entertainment.

Sol has a deep and abiding love for Jewish music and has devoted himself to its preservation. Recognition of his academic musical qualifications has resulted in his own TV show in America.

His diverse repertoire brings together the nostalgia of yesterday and the vitality of today, catering for both young and old. Singing with a distinctive tenor voice, he provides all the ingredients for an unforgettable musical experience.

Also on the bill is Johannesburg baritone, Len Kay, whose laid back style of singing will compliment Sol Zim. Len has had the words of several show tunes rewritten by Josephine Adamson especially for the show. A children's choir from King David Primary School will also perform and the backing will be provided by an eight piece orchestra under the baton of Ephraim Katz.

The venue is the Linder Auditorium, Andrews Street, Parktown on March 21 and 22 at 8pm. Tickets are available from Computicket and the entire proceeds will go to B'nai B'rith Barak Unit for distribution to Sandringham Gardens and Our Parents' Home.
